THE LONDON TEA ROOM

AFTERNOON TEA

In the mid-19th century, Anna Russel, Duchess of Bedford, created Afternoon Tea to sate the appetite between midday and evening meals. This is a truly British experience that deserves to be enjoyed any time of day.

Includes four desserts, three savory items, & a sweet scone with clotted cream & jam | 42

HIGH TEA

This savory meal, often served in the evening, is historically associated with the working class. In the modern-day United Kingdom, High Tea is enjoyed across the social strata, and it makes an excellent lunch.

Includes a pot of tea, five savory items, & a savory scone with herbed butter | 38

WEE TEA

A lighter version of the Afternoon Tea for children 12 and under.

Includes a pot of tea (or hot chocolate), two savory items, 3 desserts & a chocolate chip scone served with clotted cream & jam | 34
